

Anesthesiologist

Red Deer Regional Hospital Red Deer, Alberta

If a collegial working environment in a diverse community practice within a 90-minute drive to the Canadian Rocky Mountains is what you are looking for, you've come to the right place!

The Department of Anesthesiology at Red Deer Regional Hospital is actively recruiting two full-time, as well as locum FRCPSC certified Anesthesiologists to join our department. Start dates are negotiable.

The Red Deer Regional Hospital is a regional center providing a comprehensive gamut of services including general surgery, orthopedics, plastics, ENT, urology, gynecology, ophthalmology and obstetrics. We provide care for both adult and pediatric patient populations.

You would be providing anesthesia for both elective and trauma surgical procedures; obstetrical and call coverage are also required. Mentorship will be provided and there is a program in place to ensure the on call Anesthesiologist is supported. You would also be required to provide anesthesia in a community setting a short drive away from Red Deer.

In Alberta, Anesthesiologists typically earn approximately $50,000 above the Canadian average. Compensation is based on a fee-for-service model with additional call stipends and a per diem for dedicated daytime obstetric coverage. Income is competitive and call is assigned equitably among the 16 members of our group. Our rotating pick list ensures an equal opportunity for work and vacation for all members regardless of seniority.

Red Deer Regional Hospital provides learning opportunities for Anesthesia and Family Medicine residents, medical students, RT and paramedic students and you would be incorporated in the teaching schedule. You will also be involved in the peri-operative care of patients.

Red Deer is a vibrant city filled with a wide assortment of activities, lush green spaces and unique local culture and art. The city has an extensive riverside trail system that can be used year-round for cycling, running, walking, and cross-country skiing. An ideal city for people who enjoy the outdoors, Red Deer is a short drive to Sylvan Lake, Banff and Jasper National Parks. Located halfway between Calgary and Edmonton, two international airports are approximately an hour away. Red Deer is Alberta's third most populous city with a population of over 100,000 people and a catchment area of over 400,000.

Eligible applicants must:

- Be certified or eligible for Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada certification;
- Have completed, or be currently enrolled in an Anesthesiology residency program (in Canada preferred);
- Be eligible for full licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Alberta;

Anesthesiology residents are encouraged to book a site visit or schedule an elective.

Financial incentives such as paid travel arrangements and assistance with relocation available.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply.

To apply or for more information, please contact Lindsay McDow at: physician@albertahealthservices.ca