WORLD-CLASS FELLOWSHIP TRAINING IN CANADA’S CAPITAL

The University of Ottawa’s Department of Anesthesiology at The Ottawa Hospital is proud to offer a broad spectrum of fellowship training programs intended for the development of future leaders in academic anesthesia. Fellowships are one-year in duration (July to June) and are awarded through a highly-competitive and strictly merit-based selection process. Applications are invited from fully-trained anesthesiologists, regardless of nationality.

Our Department serves more than a million people in the region of eastern Ontario and Western Quebec through a diverse practice including a variety of challenging cases in many Anesthesia subspecialties; as a result, we offer the following training programs: Perioperative Medicine, Acute Pain Service, Chronic Pain, Regional Anesthesia, Vascular Anesthesia, Thoracic Anesthesia, Obstetrical Anesthesia, Perioperative Hemodynamic Echocardiography (non-cardiac), Neurosurgical Anesthesia, and Simulation in Medical Education. All fellows are mentored by our highly experienced faculty, and actively encouraged to engage in research activities.
